

PLANTS AND COMPONENTS IN CERTIFIED QUALITY

SCHEUCH offers a complete program of components and equipment for ventilation and environmental applications. We design and manufacture this product lineup completely in-house, giving us a virtually unmatched level of manufacturing depth; with the know-how of almost four decades, many positive synergistic effects from a large range of applications in many different industries, and SCHEUCH's innovative process technology.

As a result, we are able to provide customers with exactly the right custom-made system to solve their specific problems.

Especially noteworthy: All of the key components that are crucial to the functional safety of a complete plant are manufactured in-house at our production facilities in Auroldmünster.
